I have the pleasure and honour to welcome you all to the 22nd Annual General Meeting of your Bank and to present to you, the Report and Audited Financial Statements for the year ended 31st December 1990.

Before presenting the details of our operational performance for the year under review, I would highlight some significant events and developments on the international and domestic scenes which have affected our operations and performance.

INTERNATIONAL ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENTS

The invasion of Kuwait by Iraq on August 2, 1990, and the war that followed were unarguably, the most dramatic events that commanded the attention of the international community for the latter part of 1990 and the first quarter of this year. The initial effect seemed favourable to Nigeria and other oil producing nations as the euphoria and uncertainty that followed the invasion caused a sharp increase in world oil prices.

These reached an all-time high of $35 per barrel towards the end of August 1990, and there were high expectations that Nigeria was going to reap a substantial windfall in oil revenue. Proposals abounded as to what to do with the windfall. Some suggested applying it to reduce the size of the country’s foreign debt, or in the alternative, keeping it as permanent foreign investment to ensure regular foreign exchange earnings from interest and dividends. Others felt the surplus should be used to complete the large scale projects that have been embarked upon in the Iron and Steel, Petrochemicals and Liquefied Natural Gas sectors, or to strengthen some declining domestic sectors such as agriculture and education.

Conversely, other countries tried to grapple with the disruptions that the high oil prices caused to their economies and to the international economic order. The United States increased its oil supplies from both its strategic reserves and Alaska, while other countries who had excess production capacity also followed suit all in an attempt to ameliorate the price increases or to take advantage of them. In Nigeria, production was increased by 200,000 barrels daily to bring daily output to 1.861 million barrels.

With the successful conclusion of the Gulf War, the fear of some oil experts that the rising oil prices were driven more by speculation and conservatory actions rather than by market forces became realised. Oil prices have since fallen below $20 per barrel and are unlikely to attain the high levels recorded at the beginning of hostilities.

While the invasion of Kuwait by Iraq and the resultant war dominated the international scene in 1990, there were other major developments elsewhere which were of similar importance.

The declining performance of the Soviet economy has adversely affected its status and role as a world military and economic power. The perestroika and glasnost policies of the Gorbachev Government seem not to be working as planned and there is the increasing fear that the USSR may not survive as a single nation. The full effect of the instability in the Soviet Union remains to be seen. The year 1990 also witnessed the incursion of market-oriented and democratic systems of the West into the traditional stronghold of communism and centrally-planned economies of Eastern Europe. The two German states united as a single nation and adopted western-style political and economic systems. The communist administrations in Yugoslavia and Romania were replaced by democratic and market-oriented administrations. The collapse of communism and central-planning in Eastern Europe has resulted in a huge demand for foreign assistance to restructure their economies along the lines of the new political and economic order adopted by them. Finally, Western Europe is moving steadily towards Europe 1992, which will enshrine a single market in the Continent.

All the above external developments are expected to impact adversely on Nigeria and other third world countries. For instance, the decline in world oil prices is expected to reduce the foreign exchange earnings of the country and this will affect the implementation of Government's development programme and the ability of the country to service its external debt. Also, there are fears that the commitment of Western countries to ensure the success of the new democratic and market-oriented administrations in Eastern Europe might reduce the quantum of economic aid available to other third-world countries including Nigeria.

Finally, Europe 1992 might create greater barriers to the export of manufactured and other products from third-world countries and hence the need for regional groupings such as ECOWAS to protect their interest.

REVIEW OF THE DOMESTIC ECONOMY

My review of the international economic scene confirms how vulnerable the domestic economy is to the vagaries of the international economy especially on world oil prices. The solution to this intractable problem lies in the diversification of foreign exchange earnings. This goal will be achieved when such projects as the Liquefied Natural Gas, Petrochemical and Iron and Steel come on stream, and the private sector intensifies its efforts to promote non-oil exports, reduce its dependence on imported raw materials and other production inputs and develop a vibrant agricultural sector.

Macro-Economic Indicators

The Central Bank report when combined with the review of the economy by the President in the 1991 budget, provided an indication that the economy was on course, reflecting the appropriateness and relevance of most of the economic measures being implemented under the Structural Adjustment Programme (SAP). GDP was reported to have risen by 5.2% to N86.10 billion in 1990. Agriculture recorded a 4.2% growth, while the manufacturing sector also grew by 7.3%. However, capacity utilisation fell from 37% in 1989 to 32% in 1990.

A notable development during the period was the substantial fall in the rate of inflation from 50% in December 1989 to 16% in 1990 whilst unemployment declined marginally. The substantial reduction in inflation rate was achieved through tight monetary policies pursued during the year. Overall, government recorded a deficit of N22 billion. It is comforting to note that the government has proposed a radical solution to the problem of persistent budget deficits by presenting a surplus budget for 1991.

Privatisation & Commercialisation Programme.

The Privatisation and Commercialisation Programme seems to be on-course. So far, about 22 companies have been privatised with total receipts to the Government amounting to over N375.5 million including receipts from sale of non-water assets of the River Basin Authorities while privatisation of additional companies has been slated for 1991. Much progress has also been achieved in the commercialisation of such government utilities as NEPA, NITEL, Nigeria Railways and NPA.

External Debt and Debt Management

One major problem confronting the domestic economy is the high debt overhang. Nigeria's total external debt increased to US $31.5 billion in 1990 as against US $29.1 billion recorded in the previous year. Government expended approximately $2.7 billion on debt servicing in the year in line with the policy of pegging debt service at a level of 30 per cent of export earnings.

On External Debt rescheduling, the Bilateral Agreements signed led to the consolidation of US $10.93 billion of the debts owed to the members of the Paris Club. Similarly, further negotiations have been held on debts owed the London Club of creditors and agreement on restructuring the debts has been reached in principle.

The Debt Conversion Programme which was suspended in November 1990, has since been resumed. So far, debt amounting to over N495.6 million has been redeemed under the Programme. However, observers continue to be worried about the potential effect of the naira conversions on inflation and it is recommended that the implementation of the Programme should be monitored on a regular basis against this likely effect.

Companies & Allied Matters Decree (CAMD)

The Companies & Allied Matters Decree (CAMD), came into effect in the year to replace the Companies Act of 1968. It sought to distinguish between Private Companies and Public Limited Companies with the use of the abbreviation "Limited" for Private Companies and "PLC" for Public Limited Companies. Your Bank being a Public Limited Company, has since changed its name in compliance with the provisions of the new decree. A major introduction of the new decree is the creation of the Audit Review Committee to be composed of both Board and non-board members. The committee is given the responsibility of reviewing the audited statements of the companies and other functions. Your Bank has taken appropriate steps to implement this new requirement.

Political Transition Programme

As I mentioned in my address on the occasion of First Bank sponsored National Panel Discussion, there is a high co-relation between political stability and economic progress. I am particularly pleased that Government is providing a conducive atmosphere that will ensure the orderly implementation of the transition programme and I wish to call on the two political parties to exercise a high degree of maturity, probity and concern for the rule of law so that the Third Republic will be ushered in on a strong and sound footing.

I have no doubt that the simultaneous pursuit of the Structural Adjustment Programme and the Political Transition Programme will help to lay a solid foundation for national economic progress and political stability and build the needed foreign confidence in our economy and polity. The peaceful manner in which the last local government elections was conducted is a clear manifestation that contrary to long held views, democracy has a great potential in this country.

NATIONAL PANEL DISCUSSION

The Annual National Panel Discussion is First Bank's contribution towards the process of dialogue and evolution of a national consensus. The last National Dialogue on the theme "Adjustment Beyond 1992: An Agenda for a Viable Polity" was the third in the series organised by the Bank. Our previous outings at this Forum were in 1988 and 1989 and the topics then were equally reflective of the state of the economy. Specifically, the Forum is intended to bring experts, technocrats, corporate statesmen, the academia and the public together to rub minds on crucial national issues.

STOCK EXCHANGE AWARD

For the second consecutive year, the Bank won the coveted Stock Exchange Award as the best in the financial services sector in 1990. We shall continue to uphold our commitment to the ideals for which the Stock Exchange Award stands.

OPERATING RESULTS

Our operating results for the year were satisfactory although they were affected by the high cost of funds, unusually large provisions necessitated by the Prudential Guidelines issued by the Central Bank of Nigeria, and to meet the requirement of the Bank of England to make adequate provisions as regards problem sovereign debts. The effect of these provisions was that while Gross Profit before provisions was N189.8 million, which figure gives a fair indication of our performance and strengths, the Bank recorded an overall loss of N205.4 million for the year.

While further provisions under Prudential Guidelines are expected in the future, they are unlikely to be as substantial as those of this year and we look forward to a return to profitability. The Managing Director in his Review, gives more details of our operational performance and the response of Management to the problems facing the Bank.

DIVIDEND

The Board of Directors on the basis of the half-year results, which showed a profit, approved and paid an interim dividend of 2.5 kobo per 50 kobo share. This amounted to N4.035 million.
Chairman's Statement cont'd

However in view of the loss position at year end, no additional dividend has been recommended.

RE-ORGANISATION

In response to the dramatic changes in the banking and financial system, it became necessary to revisit our organisational structure with a view to incorporating necessary changes, in line with changes in the operating environment.

Your Board has considered and approved a new organisational structure for the Bank which will allow the Bank to respond more effectively and promptly to the changing opportunities in the market place, achieve more rationalisation in levels of responsibilities at the directorate, ensure regular and up-to-date management information for decision making, allow a more aggressive and dynamic marketing posture and achieve greater cost rationalisation and reduced overheads.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

During the year, the Board of banks where the Federal Governments has major or controlling interest, including that of your Bank, were dissolved by the Federal Government. The change saw the appointment of Mr Emmanuel Olisambu as the new Managing Director & Chief Executive and myself as the Chairman of your Board. Mr. L. E. Okafor, formerly a General Manager of the Bank and Alhaji A. Sadauki were appointed Executive Directors while Chief E. N. Ita was re-appointed an Executive Director.

Other appointments to the Board by the Federal Government were those of Mr. J. N. Gande; Alhaji B. U. Gusau; Alhaji A. Mai-Deribe; Mr. O. O. Senbore and Alhaji A. A. Ahmadu who was re-appointed.

Mr. L. E. Okafor was later redeployed towards the end of the year and replaced by Mrs. Evelyn N. Oputu-Brume who had been a Director at the International Merchant Bank (Nigeria) Limited.

There were also changes in the foreign directorship during the year. Messrs. M. D. Balloch and D. G. Grant, were appointed to the Board as representatives of Standard Chartered Bank Africa Plc in place of Messrs. William Hastie and Ronald Altringham.

I wish to thank, most sincerely, on your behalf, the former Chairman, the Managing Director and other Directors of the previous Board for their contributions towards the development of the Bank. I wish them the best in their future endeavours.

OUTLOOK FOR 1991

Distinguished Ladies and Gentlemen, 1990 has most certainly been a demanding and difficult year for the Bank. The source of the difficulties has largely been external to the institution and by and large beyond management control. The collective impact of all external factors on the Bank's operations has led to drastic management response especially in the areas of cost control and financial discipline, debt recovery and revenue generation and organisational restructuring. Management needs the support and understanding of all of us to implement the necessary policies and decisions to ensure that the Bank is competitively positioned to face challenges ahead.

However, some of the major problems confronting the Bank will remain outside its control. For instance, the necessity for further provisions against the sovereign debt in the books of our London Branch will depend on whether or not that debt is serviced by the Nigerian Government in accordance with the new restructuring agreement. Additionally, Government has yet to address seriously, the problem of local public debt in which regard all the major banks, including First Bank, hold substantial amounts in non-performing loans. If Government co-operates in servicing this debt, some of the huge provisions being made under the Prudential Guidelines will not be necessary and the outlook for 1991 and beyond will be brighter.

Finally, while not intended, most of the current regulatory measures in the financial system, such as restrictions on credit growth, payment of insurance premiums on deposits and of interest on current accounts and the liquidity mop-up operations, all affect the big banks more adversely than the other ones. All these imply that the Government and monetary authorities have major roles to play in the long-term survival of the established banks and in their ability to compete effectively in the market place.

I have no doubt in the strength and resilience of your Bank to withstand the current problems. However, it will need the support of all of us and the understanding of the Federal Government, the CBN and its agencies and sacrifice on the part of shareholders, management and staff of the Bank.

I thank you all.

Bank
ESTABLISHED 1994
INTRODUCTION

I have the pleasure to present to you the details of the Bank's operations during 1990. The Chairman, in his Statement, has already provided the detailed international and domestic settings in which your Bank operated during the year under review. I will therefore concentrate on the organisational response to the challenges created by those developments.

REVIEW OF THE YEAR

The year under review posed some of the greatest challenges, most of them externally determined, that your Bank has ever faced. Prominent among these were the various control measures introduced by the monetary authorities. The restrictions on credit growth, the regulation of interest rates, introduction of payment of interest on current accounts and the various liquidity mop-up operations all affected your Bank adversely. In addition, huge insurance premium of over N40 million had to be paid to the Nigerian Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Internally, the Bank made a major attempt to review the totality of its lending portfolio. The exercise resulted in a more prudent classification of our loans and advances and a substantial amount was put under the non-performing portfolio. The result was that additional provisions had to be made while interest from those accounts was put in suspense. All these were before the Central Bank published the Prudential Guidelines on Credit which resulted in additional provisions and classification into the non-performing category.

The above developments are expected, no doubt, to affect most banks, but the sheer size of First Bank, especially its deposit base, loans and advances portfolio, and its large staff and spread across the country, imply that their effects on this Bank will be more far-reaching.

Thus, our performance for the year must be assessed against the above background. However, in spite of the above adverse challenges, your Bank recorded satisfactory performance in its normal business operations.

SUMMARY OF RESULTS

Inspite of the difficult environment under which the Bank operated during the year in review, Gross Earnings increased by almost 25% to N1.4 billion which still remains the highest turnover in the industry. Interest Income increased by 25.4% to N1.1 billion. However, because of the high interest element put in suspense under the provision of the Prudential Guidelines, Net Interest Income virtually stabilised at N498 million.

Gross Profit before provisions for bad and doubtful debts was N189.8 million compared to N235.6 million last year. However, with the huge provisions of N395.2 million, compared to only N72.6 million last year, the Bank recorded a loss of N205.4 million in 1990. Of the total provisions, a net amount of N201.3 million was charged to meet the additional provisions as required by the Prudential Guidelines. The total required provision under this category was N830.7 million and this is being amortised over a period of 4 years with effect from the 1990 financial year. Management is determined to reduce these provisions through an aggressive debt recovery effort.

A new provision of N59.9 million was made for Other Assets under the Prudential Guidelines. This has taken care of all such accumulated balances and it is not expected that we will provide significant amounts under this classification in the future. A strategy has been put in place to ensure that unreconciled interbank balances which contribute significantly to this provision are cleared as early as possible.

Finally, a provision of N133.9 million (7.6 million pounds sterling) was made against Nigerian sovereign debt in the books of our London Branch to bring the book value of the debt to its true value. The effect of these debts on our performance in the future will depend on movements in the market value. With the renewed confidence in the world finance market in these debts, the market value has been improving in recent times.

The above analyses of our operations and performance for 1990 confirm the underlying strength and resilience of the Bank which will become manifest in our performance in the future.

Inspite of the stiff competition for deposits, total deposits increased by about 15% from N5.78 billion to N6.63 billion. Our prime deposits within Nigeria, namely, Demand and Savings Deposits increased by over 35% on the aggregate from N3.4 billion to N4.6 billion. This, more than anything, underlines the strength of First Bank and the potentials for the future.

The Bank also undertook a professional revaluation exercise on some of its landed properties this year. The exercise revealed an increase of almost N1 billion in the current market values of these assets compared to their book values. The substantial appreciation has not yet been reflected in the Balance Sheet.

The Management, in consultation with the Board, has already taken bold and innovative measures to position the Bank on a firm and strong footing to take advantage of these potentials and to meet the challenges ahead. We hope these will reflect on our performance in the future.

DEVELOPMENTS IN THE BANKING AND FINANCIAL SECTORS

I will now highlight some of the key developments in the banking and financial

Growth in the Banking Sector

Today, the banking sector remains one of the most dynamic and fastest growing sectors of the economy. The sector witnessed tremendous growth in number and size last year. From 81 in 1989, the number of banks grew to 107 at the end of 1990. No doubt, this development poses serious challenges to banks like ours with long cherished traditions. I want to assure you that, your Board and Management are taking necessary steps to ensure that the Bank is strongly positioned to cope with these challenges and maintain its leadership position in the industry.

Apart from the traditional merchant and commercial banks, the year witnessed tremendous growth in the number and activities of the non-bank financial institutions. Unfortunately, because these institutions have remained relatively unregulated or uncontrolled, there is the strong fear that their activities may neutralise the objectives of Government monetary policies and hence the need for the monetary authorities to bring their activities under policy control.

The People's Bank which was launched in the fourth quarter of 1989 seems to be making progress especially in the number of branches and volume of lending. To ensure professionalism and prevent unhealthy practices, the Government must take prompt measures to ensure that the objectives for which the Bank was set up are not defeated.

Another important development during 1990 was the take-off of the Community Bank scheme. We hope this will gradually replace the rural branches of commercial banks. The fact that government has suspended the fourth phase of the rural banking programme tends to suggest that Community Banks should eventually replace the rural branches of commercial banks. I am pleased to inform you that, your Bank, in recognition of its social obligations and its leadership position in the industry, has opened all the branches allocated to it under the three phases of the rural banking programme.

The Foreign Exchange Market

Regrettably, the naira exchange rate which maintained some degree of stability in 1990 began to suffer depreciation towards the end of that year. The Dutch auction system introduced by the Central Bank in December, 1990, seems not to have helped matters, but the main reason for the instability continues to hinge on the wide divergence between demand for and the supply of foreign exchange in the market. A long-term solution to the problem therefore lies in finding ways of improving private sources of supply to the market. It is anticipated that the various incentive schemes designed by Government to promote non-oil exports will stimulate the private sector to brace up to the challenge of meeting their foreign exchange requirements from their own activities while depending less on official sources.

Payment of Interest on Current Accounts

Payment of interest on current accounts hitherto made optional, has now become mandatory. The implication of this development is that our cost of funds has been pushed up and this calls for imaginative practices to ensure that the Bank continues to achieve fair and acceptable margins from the use of its funds. The large established retail banks incur huge overheads in attracting and mobilising current and savings accounts deposits and where policies that have wide implications on cost of these funds are made generally applicable to all banks, they tend to affect the large retail banks more adversely and unfairly.

Capital Market Development

Activities in the Nigerian Stock Exchange increased during 1990 with the number of listed companies increasing from 111 to 131. Of these, 15 are those companies privatised by Government. The number of listed securities during the year also increased from 198 to 217. Market Capitalisation increased to approximately N16 billion in 1990 compared to N12 billion in 1989. Overall, 40 new issues.
Managing Director's Review cont'd

worth N1.3 billion were sold in the market. The year saw the opening of new branches of the Exchange in Onitsha and Ibadan while the number of stockbroking firms increased from 61 to 80. Your Bank was able to capitalise on the increased activities in the market and took in new registrarship and trusteeship businesses.

REVIEW OF BANKING OPERATIONS

Banking and Corporate Finance Division

A number of changes were introduced in the Division during the year under review.

A new unit known as Development Finance was created. The unit is responsible for facilitating the availability of credits to Small and Medium-Scale Enterprises (SMEs) under the World Bank assisted S.M.E Loan Scheme and Federal Government sponsored National Economic Reconstruction Fund (NERFUND). Within the short period of participation in the two schemes, the Bank has financed ten projects spread all over the country worth over N50 million. Since the schemes are continuous, it is hoped that many of our eligible customers will continue to benefit from them from time to time.

The Unit also implements the African Development Bank/Export Stimulation Loan (ADB/ESL) Scheme and assists exporters through the Rediscounting and Refinancing facilities of the Central Bank (now NEXIM).

Under the scheme, CBN has granted the Bank N120 million for utilisation and efforts are being made to optimise its usage by our customers. There are plans to expand the operational scope of the Unit to include Business Advisory Services and Debt Conversion Programme.

Similarly, Agriculture continued to receive a pride of place. For example, lending to Agriculture was N504,961,317 in 1990, about 15% of total loans and advances which is the minimum prescribed by the Central Bank of Nigeria. I am proud to remark that First Bank of Nigeria Plc, for the fourth year running, came first at the Farmers' Merit Award organised by the Central Bank of Nigeria. Of the 21 best farmers for the year selected from each of the 21 States of the Federation, 9 were customers of First Bank. This is a reflection of our commitment to the improvement of agriculture in the country and the quality of agricultural support services we provide to our customers.

International Banking

Efforts are being intensified to improve our International Banking Services and significant progress was achieved during the year in this regard. Delays in opening Letters of Credit (L/Cs) have been reduced substantially to the extent that L/Cs are now opened within 24 hours and there are many instances where Letters of Credit can be opened on the same date of receipt of complete supporting documents. It is our desire to improve further in this area of our operations.

Treasury Operations

Treasury Department which was created as a separate unit in 1989, has become a dominant player in the Nigerian money and interbank market. Its volume of trading has increased considerably and this is reflected in its contribution to earnings. Adequate resources will continue to be made available to the Department to ensure continuing improvement and sophistication in its operations and in the management of the Bank's funds.

First Trustees Nigeria Limited

The company was able to build on its activities and clientele base during the year. It won the trusteeship of some debenture issues that came to the market including those of Leventis Motors and Allied Bank of Nigeria Limited and handled five major syndications. It also made reasonable in-roads in the area of pension funds management by increasing the number of accounts under its management and making contacts which are likely to develop into firm commitments in the future.

To enable the Company play a greater role in the market and increase its contribution to the Bank, efforts are underway to adequately capitalise and provide it with the needed financial resources and support.

FBN (Merchant Bankers) Limited

The determination of the Bank to enter the merchant banking field to complement its retail banking activities was realised when FBN (Merchant Bankers) Limited commenced operations in August, 1990, with a fully paid-up capital of N20 million.

The published results of the merchant bank for the 5-month ended December 31, 1990, was quite impressive. Total Assets and Deposits were N382 million and N268 million respectively while Loans and Advances reached N61 million. Gross Earnings were N29 million for the 5-month period while Profit Before Tax was almost N5 million.

The results shown so far achieved in 1991 have even been more encouraging and your Board will continue to offer the necessary support and guidance to the merchant bank to enable it establish its presence firmly in the market place. We hope to be deriving soon, much financial return from our investment in this merchant banking subsidiary.

New Product Development

The Nigerian banking industry is becoming increasingly competitive and to stay ahead of competition calls for innovation and improvements in product and service delivery. After a detailed study of the environment in which we operate, the existing market and future developments, your Bank has decided to be in the vanguard of introducing new products that will enhance retail banking services in the country. In particular, we have taken the bold step of entering the Electronic Banking field with the introduction of Automated Teller Machines (ATMs) and plastic card products. The ATM machines have already been installed in some of our branches in Lagos and it is hoped that we shall be able to provide these machines in strategic places all over the country in due course. First Bank debit cards, "FIRST CARD", will also be launched in 1991 in co-operation with one of the major credit card organisations in the world, namely, MasterCard International Inc.

Finally, the Bank recently obtained a licence to operate an insurance agency. The Agency shall provide speedy services in all classes of insurance to the Bank, its employees and its customers.
Managing Director’s Review cont’d

We remain strongly committed to finding new and better ways of delivering our services and identifying new products, services and technology that will improve our efficiency and create added value for our customers, employees and shareholders.

Strategic Planning

The 1990 Senior Managers’ Conference was held at the Gateway International Hotel, Ota, between 1st and 2nd June, 1990. The Conference focussed specifically on “SWOT ANALYSIS FOR FIRST BANK OF NIGERIA PLC A Framework for Strategic Planning in FBN” prepared by the Corporate Development Department. The Report contained recommendations and strategies for guiding the Bank into the future. The Conference deliberated extensively on the Report and articulated on the recommendations and strategies. I am pleased to inform you that the Report has since been approved by Management as a working tool.

Computerisation

The Bank made further progress in its computerisation programme during the year. The on-line computerisation of branches which has received enthusiastic acceptance both from customers and staff was extended to all Regional Administrations during the year. Altogether, a total of 15 branches were computerised on the Bankmaster system.

Computerisation of Head Office operations was also intensified during the year through the enhancement of existing systems and the introduction of computers in some departments such as Stationery & Supplies.

Management is committed to deriving full benefit from the substantial investment in computers and other equipment. As a step to that, the problem of computerisation in the Bank has been effectively diagnosed and a future philosophy is being formulated while appropriate strategies are to be put in place. The number of trained computer personnel is to be increased and we are stepping up our computer training.

Training and Development

Our Bank regards its staff as its most vital resource and we pursue a deliberate policy of training and developing our staff on a continuous basis to upgrade and improve on their skills, and to acquire new skills. The Head Office Training & Development Department coordinates the activities of the five training centres located in Lagos, Ibadan, Enugu, Jos and Kano. Altogether, there are 22 different courses run by the Regional Training Centres and Head Office Training & Development Department regularly throughout the year. These courses cover all aspects of banking operations and are tailored to meet the needs of the different categories of staff from the junior to the management grades. During the year ended 31st December, 1990, a total of 5,152 of our staff benefited from various courses. Of these, 4,248 attended in-house courses designed for specific skills and techniques in banking operations, while 843 attended local external courses organised by reputable institutions such as Financial Institutions Training Centre (FITC), Centre for Management Development (CMD), the Industrial Training Fund (ITF), etc.

In addition, we were able to mechanise our current account operations in twenty-two of our medium size and rural branches throughout the country.

Also 13 of our management staff and some staff of the Computer Department benefitted from...

oversea courses during the year.

We earned another first during the year when, in recognition of our training effort, the Industrial Training Fund gave us a reimbursement of N1,013,463.34 and commended our training programme as being one of the most comprehensive in the country. For years, First Bank has been offering its training facilities to other banks especially the new and young ones. In 1990, a total of 72 officers from these banks attended courses in our training schools.

Premises

We recognise the fact that the provision of good banking services cannot be divorced from that of good banking environment. For this purpose, we remain committed to the enhancement of our premises and office structures. During the year under review, efforts were concentrated on the completion of on-going projects in Aba, Bida, Ilorin, Jos, Kano, Owerri and Iganmu. The Iganmu project is a complex comprising the new Iganmu Branch, a seven storey Office Block for South Administration and a Training Complex which includes accommodation and recreational facilities for trainees. The completion of the project will enhance our training facilities and allow us to reduce cost in some areas such as accommodation.

Assets Revaluation

As mentioned in the earlier part of my report, some of the landed properties of the Bank have been revalued. The exercise showed an appreciation of over N1 billion in the market value of these assets compared to their book value. Those properties not yet valued are estimated to be in billions of naira. It is our objective to maintain the value of these assets through continuous maintenance and improvements.

Staff Matters

The Bank's staff strength stood at 11,515 as at 31st December, 1990, a net increase of 149 or 1.31% when compared to the figure of 11,366 as at 31st December, 1989.

Two of our former Directors, Alhaji M. I. Yahaya and Alhaji Shehu Mohammed were appointed Managing Directors of Savannah Bank of Nigeria Limited and Allied Bank of Nigeria Limited respectively during the year under review. Similarly, our two former General Managers, Mr. L. E. Okafor and Aja M. S. Kutigi were appointed Executive Directors of International Merchant Bank (Nigeria) Limited and NAL Merchant Bank Limited respectively. Mr. Okuor served briefly as an Executive Director of First Bank before his movement to International Merchant Bank in December 1990. I wish, on behalf of the Board and Management of the Bank, to thank all of them for their past contributions and wish them the best in their new positions.

STAFF STRENGTH

In recognition of the contribution and important role of staff to the success of the Bank, a total of 1,268 staff were promoted during the year. During 1990, we had to go to the Industrial Arbitration Panel but this was principally on grounds of industrial relations principle. Generally, the Bank enjoyed a calm and peaceful industrial atmosphere and will continue to reward honest and dedicated staff.

Finally, the Bank honoured some members of staff who had put in 10, 15, 20 and 25 years of meritorious service as a token of its appreciation of their contributions to the growth of the Bank. Let me repeat that the Bank will continue to show its appreciation, support and commitment to those staff who have dedicated their career to the service of the Bank and this includes those who are still in service and in retirement.
Managing Director's Review cont’d

Conclusion

As I have earlier mentioned, 1990 was a challenging year for the Bank. Developments during the year have imposed on us a greater need to hasten the process of modernisation and innovation and prepare the Bank adequately for the challenges ahead. This will call for the co-operation and sacrifice of all concerned - the management and staff, customers and shareholders. Your Bank remains a strong and solid financial institution. The Management is committed to building on this strength and to employing its huge resources for the benefit of staff, customers and shareholders. I have no doubt that we can count on your support in the task ahead.
